

Dear Students,

We have entered a new era due to the COVID-19 pandemic, which has changed not only our educational activities but the entire course of our lives on a global scale. This process has also become an essential requirement in implementing drastic changes in our learning and teaching habits.

As the family of Alanya HEP University, we believe that the digital opportunities offered by the current age can lead education and learning beyond the walls of the school. In this context, we want you to know that with the strong infrastructure of our Centre for Open and Distance Education that was established in 2016 and our university's academic staff having specialized in distance learning, we strive hard to continue to provide you with better education and support.

In this context, in accordance with the decisions of the Senate of the University, we have completed the necessary preparations for the live (synchronous) execution of all theoretical and practical courses in undergraduate and graduate programs. As of 30.03.2020, all courses, academic counselling services and psychological guidance services had been carried out asynchronously online. Now on, from 20.04.2020 all courses, academic counselling services and psychological guidance services will be carried out both by synchronous and asynchronous distance learning.

First and foremost, by saying "health is the beginning of everything," we would like to remind you that in order to get through this challenging process in a healthy and efficient way we, as a University, are with you not only academically, but we hope always to be together #lifelongtogetheratHEP to make every moment of life more valuable.

The Senate of Alanya HEP University
