

2019-2020 Academic Year Spring Semester Distance Education Exam Announcement

Dear Students,

Our university has taken all necessary measures to ensure that education is not disrupted during the global epidemic and continues to conduct spring semester courses online with distance education system.

The university administration and Senate have decided that the exams for the spring semester should be conducted through the online system without coming to the campus and the necessary infrastructure is being established for the exams to be conducted smoothly.

For this reason, the academic calendar of our university has been updated due to the pandemic period. Please click here for the theoretical courses and the exam dates of the applied courses.

For students who cannot take the exam for any reason or who have technical problems during the exam, “make-up exam” applications will be carried out within the framework of the existing regulations.

It is recommended to take the exam with a desktop/laptop computer. You must supply before the exam.

Clear the history and cookie settings in your browser before you enter the exam.

In case of screen freeze or computer shutdown during the exam, you can complete your exam by re-logging into your distance education system (Alanya HEP LMS).

If you are unable to solve the problem that you have experienced during the exam and cannot enter your exam, you must contact the Distance Education Officer of the course and inform them. This will be considered your technical excuse application. Your entry status will be determined after the technical check and you will be informed.

We strongly believe that we will overcome this difficult process together. We wish to reunite with you in the campus of our university, to get back to the days when we had classes in our classrooms as soon as possible. We wish you good luck in the exam session.
